

Horrors

Our civilisation has fought some horrors recently and even defeated some. Others continue, partly because we have left it far too long and they are now objectively hard to defeat, but mainly because we have yet to find enough common ground amongst ourselves on the morality of opposing them at all. Notably:

Tyranny, torture, starvation and ruin in North Korea. And of course belligerent, genocidal threats.

Mass-murder of Jews in Israel – and the Final Solution of the Israel Problem being planned, unimpeded.

Shame on us.
