

Who “Invented Human Rights” And For What Purpose?

E. Nough reports that according to Mahathir Mohamad, the Prime Minister of Malaysia, it was “The Jews” that did it. And why? “So the persecuting them would appear to be wrong”, so that they could continue to “rule the world by proxy”...

In case the E. Nough link doesn't work, [here is the news report of the speech.]

Why are Mahathir Mohamad's evil delusions almost never reported in the mainstream media? Why is he almost invariably described as a “moderate Muslim leader”?

Update: Read Charles Johnson's comments on the speech.

Thu, 10/16/2003 - 13:29 | permalink

Chirac Blocks EU Criticism of Anti-Semitic Statements

According to this story:

At their own summit in Brussels, Belgium, European Union leaders had drafted a harshly worded statement condemning Mahathir's remarks, but French President Jacques Chirac blocked the wording from becoming a part of a final declaration.

Gil

by Gil on Fri, 10/17/2003 - 20:18 | reply

More interesting

More interesting were the comments of our new “ally” Hamid Karzai:

Asked by the AP whether he thought the speech was anti-Semitic, Afghan President Hamid Karzai said: “I don't think so.”

“Dr. Mahathir spoke of the inhibitions within the Islamic world and that those inhibitions must go away, and I entirely agree with that,” Karzai said.

What are the chances that the new leadership of Iraq would be any different?

by a reader on Sat, 10/18/2003 - 04:00 | reply

---

Copyright © 2005 Setting The World To Rights