

Captain Euro

Warliberal has a wonderful series of funny-because-they're true stories about a European superhero, Captain Euro:

Captain Euro in Afghanistan

Captain Euro meets Buffy the Vampire Slayer

By the way, if you don't know who Buffy the Vampire Slayer is, then you should immediately:

- Purchase a television set;
- Purchase a DVD player;
- Watch these.

Do this at once. We'll still be here when you get back.

The complete Captain Euro collection (in reverse chronological order)

Thanks to Meryl Yourish for the reference. Her blog is well worth reading too.

i don't see what's so great about buffy

i've watched a dozen or so eps from i think mostly around season 3, and the first about 4. i have up thru season 2 to watch whenever i want. but, shrug, there's so many other things, i don't watch buffy. i don't see what's so impressive.

also since u like buffy so much, you really ought to watch firefly.
