

The Truth Is...

Steven Den Beste of USS Clueless has been blogging a lot less lately due to some sort of blogger burnout. But today something seems to have boiled over inside him and he has burst back into the blogosphere with a massive essay on the theme 'The Truth Is...'. Firing wildly in all directions, he nevertheless hits the bull's eye with every shot.

Does he look like a carrot, though? We don't dare venture an opinion.
